

Viewing your notifications in FanClub

Last Modified on 09/08/2021 6:24 pm EDT

You can keep up to date with who your new followers are, and check out your latest post engagements from the Notifications tab. Here, you're able to view which users have loved, commented and Re-MV'd your posts. You'll also be able to see which fans have interacted with your VIP FanClub content, so that you don't miss out any special fan shout outs.

To check your notifications, locate and select the 'Notifications' tab in your profile, this will display your most recent post engagement from all of your fans and followers. If you'd prefer, you can also filter your notifications by their individual categories.
